

Future Perfect

CEFR B2

Lesson Pack · summary, worksheet & answer key

Quick answer

The future perfect (will have + past participle) is for an action finished before a future point.

Use it for:

- 1 Something completed by a future time — By 2030, I'll have finished my studies.
- 2 Often with 'by' or 'by the time' — By the time you arrive, we'll have eaten.

Use will have + past participle. For an action in progress at a future time, use the future continuous instead.

At a glance

Form	Structure	Example
Affirmative	subject + will have + past participle	She will have left .
Negative	subject + won't have + past participle	They won't have finished .
Question	Will + subject + have + past participle?	Will you have arrived by then?

Learning objectives

- Can form the future perfect with will have + past participle (CEFR B2).
- Can use it for actions completed before a future point, with by / by the time.
- Can distinguish it from the future continuous.

Practice worksheet

Circle the correct option. Future Perfect · CEFR B2

Name: _____

Date: _____

1. By 2030, I ____ my degree.

- | | |
|-----------------|------------------------|
| A. 'I'll finish | B. 'I'll have finished |
| C. finish | D. finished |

2. By June, they ____ married.

- | | |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| A. 'I'll have got | B. 'I'll have get |
| C. 'I'll got | D. get |

3. By the time you arrive, we ____ dinner.

- | | |
|--------------|---------------------|
| A. 'I'll eat | B. 'I'll have eaten |
| C. eat | D. ate |

4. Don't worry — she ____ left by then.

- | | |
|-----------------|----------|
| A. won't have | B. won't |
| C. doesn't have | D. isn't |

5. By ten, I ____ the report (it'll be completely done).

- | | |
|-----------------------|------------------------|
| A. 'I'll be finishing | B. 'I'll have finished |
| C. finish | D. finished |

6. By 3pm, the plane ____.

- | | |
|--------------|---------------------|
| A. will land | B. will have landed |
| C. lands | D. landed |

7. ____ you ____ everything by Friday?

- | | |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| A. Will / have finished | B. Do / finish |
| C. Will / finished | D. Are / finish |

8. By midnight, he ____ home.

- | | |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| A. will have went | B. will have gone |
| C. will gone | D. goes |

9. Rewrite with the same meaning: 'I'll finish the book before Sunday.'

- | | |
|--|--|
| A. By Sunday, I'll have finished the book. | B. On Sunday I finish the book. |
| C. I finished the book on Sunday. | D. I'll be finishing the book on Sunday. |

10. Which sentence means the action is complete by that time?

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| A. At six I'll be cooking dinner. | B. By six I'll have cooked dinner. |
| C. At six I cook dinner. | D. I'll cook at six. |

Answer key

Correct answers with explanations · for the teacher

1. B. 'I'll have finished — Completed before a future point takes the future perfect: 'will have finished'.
2. A. 'I'll have got — Future perfect = will have + participle: 'will have got married' (get → got).
3. B. 'I'll have eaten — 'By the time' + a completed action takes the future perfect: 'will have eaten'.
4. A. won't have — Negative future perfect = won't have + participle: 'won't have left'.
5. B. 'I'll have finished — Completely done by a future point takes the future perfect: 'will have finished'.
6. B. will have landed — Completed before a future point takes the future perfect: 'will have landed'.
7. A. Will / have finished — Future perfect question = Will + subject + have + participle: 'Will you have finished...?'.
8. B. will have gone — 'go → went → gone', so 'will have gone'.
9. A. By Sunday, I'll have finished the book. — 'Finish before Sunday' = completed by Sunday = future perfect: 'will have finished'.
10. B. By six I'll have cooked dinner. — 'By six I'll have cooked' means the cooking is finished by six.